Community Profile

The City of Fontana is located about 50 miles east of Los Angeles. The City spans approximately 42.4 square miles and has a population estimated at January 1, 2014, to be 202,177. The City was incorporated on June 25, 1952, under the laws of the State of California and enjoys all the rights and privileges applicable to a general law city.

The City is governed by a five member City Council under the Council-Manager form of government. Policy-making and legislative authority are vested in a governing council consisting of the mayor and four council members elected at large on a non-partisan basis.

Council members serve four-year staggered terms, with two council members elected every two years. The mayor is elected to serve a four-year term. The governing council's responsibilities include passing ordinances, adopting the budget, appointing committees, and hiring both the City Manager and City Attorney. The City Manager is responsible for carrying out the policies and ordinances of the governing council, overseeing the day-to-day operations of the government, and appointing the department heads.

The City of Fontana employs approximately 562 full-time employees. Services provided include police protection; contracts for fire services; the construction and maintenance of highways, streets, and other infrastructure; waste water and sanitation services; and recreational activities and cultural events.

In addition to general government activities, the City Council also serves as the Board of Directors of the Fontana Industrial Development Authority, the Fontana Public

Financing Authority, the Fontana Housing Authority, Fontana Community Foundation and the Fontana Fire Protection District.

History

The City was first developed as an organized rural community through the vision of Mr. A. B. Miller. Although self-sufficient, the farming community was abruptly reshaped to accommodate the industrial revolution in 1942 with the transformation of Mr. Miller's farm into a steel mill by Henry J. Kaiser. The area became Southern California's leading producer of steel and steel-related products. The steel industry dominated the City's economy until 1984 when the steel mill closed.

City Information

Fiscal Year 2014/2015

Location

One of the many reasons Fontana has a thriving economy is due to the high traffic volumes and great exposure from Interstate 10, Interstate 15 and the 210 freeway. These factors have created a lucrative and attractive atmosphere that has and will continue to attract and support new commercial and retail development.

Population and Income

The population has increased by 23% over the last ten years to a projected 203,683 for FY 2014-15. Much of this growth is due to recent annexation of unincorporated areas of San Bernardino County, as well as the results of the 2010 Census which indicated growth of 52% for 2010 over 2000.

The estimated average household income is $76,499.

Education

Fontana currently has within its boundaries five school districts: Fontana Unified, Chaffey Joint Union, Colton Joint Unified, Etiwanda Elementary and Cucamonga Elementary.

Chaffey College's Fontana Campus serves the eastern portion of the community college district. Phase I of their three-phase plan expansion opened in 1996; Phase II, a 10,000 square foot facility, opened in 2007 doubling the size of the campus. Phase III added another 30,000 square foot facility including additional classrooms, two science laboratories, a library, a bookstore, a dance studio, student lounge and additional administrative offices increasing the number of continuing education students that will be served in the Fontana area. An educated workforce is an employable workforce.

Parks and Recreation

With 40 parks and community recreation centers throughout the City, Fontana prides itself on providing residents with opportunities to enjoy the outdoors.

Fontana Park, located at Summit Avenue and Lytle Creek Road, opened in October 2008.

Fontana Park offers a wide range of amenities including Fontana's largest Community Center, a year round Aquatic Center, fully managed Skate and BMX Park, sports pavilion, dog park, and passive play area.

The Mary Vagle Science and Nature Center, located near Jurupa Hills Regional Park, offers an opportunity for a wide range of environmental education activities.

Coyote Canyon Park is one of Fontana's newer recreational areas. The home of adult and youth softball, the neighborhood park is located in the Coyote Canyon area.

Fernandez Park, located at the northwest corner of Miller and Locust Avenues, includes playground structures, a picnic shelter, a meandering sidewalk, open space for recreational play, a 27 stall parking lot, and a small pre-cast concrete restroom facility for men and women.

The 41,000 square foot Senior Community Center is a welcome addition to the Downtown. Completed in May 2010, the community center is highly amenitized to include kitchen and banquet facilities, an exercise facility and a place for seniors to gather and recreate.

Many other recreational opportunities are available in and around Fontana. Sierra Lakes Golf Course is an 18-hole, championship golf course designed by Ted Robinson, internationally acclaimed golf course architect. The par 72, 6,805-yard layout is a premiere, daily fee, public golf facility offering golfers affordability in a country club setting.

Also, local mountain communities such as Big Bear, Lake Arrowhead, and Mt. Baldy offer some of the finest skiing resorts in Southern California and are easily accessible within one hour.

Arts and Culture

Recognized as one of the 100 Best Communities for Young People and as one of the best places to raise a family, Fontana is a home where artistic ideas, creative talents and cultural diversity are celebrated. Affordable opportunities to study and appreciate fine arts are available to artists and citizens alike.

The city has worked with established organizations such as the San Bernardino County Library, the Fontana Art Association, Fontana Historical Society, Center Stage Theater and the Fontana Community Players to build upon a strong cultural past and define the future of the arts in Fontana. The cultural and architectural renaissance in the downtown civic center campus has led to a thriving art district that offers quality art, literature, theater and outdoor entertainment.

With the openings of the Art Depot Gallery, Center Stage Theater, Koehler Gallery, Lewis Library and Miller Park Amphitheater, Fontana has taken a decisive step as a future leader in cultural arts programming.

Medical Facilities

Kaiser Permanente Medical Center is an expanding facility serving the Fontana community and beyond. On May 8, 2009, a groundbreaking ceremony was held for Kaiser's new Fontana Medical Center which includes a 482,000 square foot state-of-the-art facility with 314 beds, a 30,000 square foot medical office building, and numerous sitting areas. The Center will be one of the largest hospitals in the Inland Empire and add 50 to 100 new jobs.

Residents in North Fontana now have an additional urgent care facility. Conveniently located in the CHW Medical Plaza at the northeast corner of Sierra Avenue and the 210 Freeway, St. Bernardine Urgent Care Center opened in May 2009. Services available at the facility range from diagnosis to treatment, including x-ray and lab service.

Transportation and Infrastructure

The City is a major transportation hub with convenient access to Interstates 10, 15 and the 210 freeway. Rail service available from Union Pacific Railroad and MetroLink to the greater Los Angeles area runs through the center of town. Fontana is only 10 minutes away from LA/Ontario International Airport. In addition, Fontana's location allows for access to the Santa Ana Regional Interceptor (SARI) Industrial Sewer line.

Utilities

The only City utility is the sanitary sewer service. Wastewater treatment service provided by the Inland Empire Utilities Agency is included on the City bill. Customers are billed on a bi-monthly basis with approximately 85% collected with the property tax.

Local Economy

The Inland Empire has been recognized as being the fastest growing metropolitan statistical area in Southern California due to affordable housing and industrial development. The development of the Inland Empire is occurring because it is the last region of the Southern California area to have large amounts of undeveloped land along transportation corridors. Demographers predict that the region's population will rise from 3.2 million in 2000 to 5.5 million in 2020, exceeding the growth of 47 of the 50 states.

The center of San Bernardino County's growth is moving west into Fontana. Fontana has competitive advantages related to its neighbors in the Inland Empire as it is now the westernmost city with available space to accommodate both residential and industrial development. It offers new residents housing cost advantages and companies locating here can benefit from lower labor costs.

The City of Fontana has been greatly affected by the economic slowdown, most drastically by the housing crisis. The median prices for new and existing homes in the Inland Empire have returned to their 2004 levels and are likely to remain flat until the mortgage crisis is resolved.

Fontana has experienced many foreclosures scattered throughout the community as well as a significant decline in new housing development. Change in assessed valuation for the City has gone from double digit growth in fiscal years 2001-02 through 2007-08, to 5% in FY 2008-09, negative 10% in FY 2009-10, negative 3% in FY 2010-11, negative 1% in FY 2011-12, and positive 1% in FY 2012-13.

The City of Fontana has used the accelerated growth of the past to build healthy monetary reserves. The City intends to continue to make investments in the community that will bring value to the residents, businesses and property owners and continue to improve the quality of life for the residents of the City of Fontana. As part of its long-term financial planning, Fontana intends to take the opportunity during the present economic slowdown to enhance the City through investment in infrastructure.
