"Vision Statement"

"Fontana is a dynamic, thriving community that supports education, growth, safety and a positive community fabric. Our community is creating the opportunities that encourage social and economic investment."

Vision Statement
Adopted February 7, 2006

When purchasing a home, your future monthly payments will be made up of principal and interest, real property taxes and insurance.

But what is the special tax for the Mello-Roos Community Facilities District?

The City of Fontana, like many other growing communities, depends on Mello-Roos Community Facilities Districts to provide premium “affordable housing” and stable funding for ongoing maintenance.

This guide is intended to provide general information about Mello-Roos Community Facilities Districts (CFDs).

What is a Mello-Roos Community Facilities District?

History

In 1978, Proposition 13 was enacted by Californians which limited the ability of many public agencies to finance new projects. In 1982, Senator Henry Mello and Assemblyman Mike Roos affected the passage of the "Mello-Roos Community Facilities Act of 1982" (the Act) authorizing local governments and developers to create Community Facilities Districts (CFDs) for the purpose of selling tax-exempt bonds to fund public improvements.

Mello-Roos Community Facilities Act

The Act allows any county, city, special district, school district or joint powers of authority to establish a CFD which allows for the financing of public services and facilities. Basically, it allows communities to raise funds for improvements to infrastructure (streets, sewers, storm drains) even though Proposition 13 limits their ability to tax property.

In order to establish a CFD, it must be approved by a two-thirds margin of qualified voters in the district. If there are fewer than twelve registered voters within the district, the vote may be passed by current landowners. At the close of the legal proceedings, an established CFD has all the legal privileges of a legally sanctioned governmental body.

How are CFDs used?

New development requires infrastructure (streets, sewers, storm drains). Local governments are forced to require developers to put in the necessary regional infrastructure for new home developments. The developer then adds the cost of this infrastructure to the price of each new home. The homebuyer pays more for the home, therefore increasing the amount of the mortgage.

Many developers opt for establishing a CFD so they can sell the homes at a lower price. Prior to the sale of the homes, they are the only "voters" in the CFD and thus have the power to create the district for future property owners. The CFD has the power to issue tax-exempt bonds to pay for the infrastructure. The cost is then passed on to the homeowner in the form of annual special taxes.

Without the CFD, the homebuyer would probably pay more for the home resulting in a higher mortgage payment, and would also be paying higher property taxes on the increased cost of the home.

City of Fontana CFDs

The City of Fontana establishes two types of CFDs.

- 1) The first type is established for the purpose of issuing bonds to finance certain public improvements (streets, sewers, storm drains).

- 2) The second type is established to fund services such as the ongoing maintenance for street lighting, landscaping and park maintenance within and surrounding the area of the CFD.

Some of the existing districts have both a bond component as well as a service component (i.e., CFD #7 (Country Club Estates), CFD #12 (Sierra Lakes), CFD #31 (Citrus Heights North), CFD #37 (Montelago), CFD # 70 (Avellino), CFD # 71 (Sierra Crest), CFD # 74B, CFD # 80 (Bella Strada) and CFD # 81 (Gabriella).

What is the basis for the special tax?

Most special taxes are levied on properties within the CFD usually based on the square footage of the lot or the home. The Act allows considerable flexibility in this area and the methods vary widely among districts. The Rate and Method of Apportionment (RMA), which is approved during the CFD establishment proceedings, provides this information for each individual CFD. (See pages 7 and 9 for residential rates for specific CFDs.)

How much will my special tax payment be?

The amount of tax may vary from year to year, but may not exceed the maximum amount specified in the RMA when the district was created. It is the policy of the City of Fontana to maintain stable rates for its residents to the extent possible.

When do I pay these taxes?

CFD special taxes are typically collected on your general property tax bill with payments due on December 10th and April 10th of each year. These special taxes are subject to the same penalties that apply to regular property taxes.

What if I don't pay my property tax bill on time?

CFD special taxes are subject to the same penalties that apply to regular property taxes. If there are outstanding bonds and the special taxes become delinquent, the CFD may exercise its legal right to foreclose and sell the property after providing the required notifications to the homeowner.

How long do I pay these taxes?

- 1) If there are CFD bonds, the tax will be levied until the principal and interest on the bonds are paid off. Typically, CFD bonds are paid off over a 30-year period.
- 2) If the CFD was established to pay for maintenance or other services, the property owner will be taxed as long as the maintenance and/or other services are provided.

How is the special tax reflected on real property records?

Per the "Act," the special tax is a lien on your property. It is recorded as a "Notice of Special Tax Lien" which is a continuing lien to secure each levy of the special tax. Any delinquent payments must be paid before the sale of the property.

What are the disclosure requirements?

California Civil Code Section 1102.6 requires a seller of real property within a CFD to provide the "Notice of Special Tax" to the buyer.

Closing Documents

When it comes times to close escrow on your home, you will be asked to sign many documents. One of these "closing documents" will be the "Notice of Special Tax" which will provide specific information about the Mello-Roos Community Facilities District (CFD) your home is located in.

In addition to City administered CFDs, your home may also be located within a CFD administered by another agency such as the School District. All CFDs must be disclosed to you by the seller.
